MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

Welcome to Yarra News.

We recently adopted our 2018/19 budget and this year's process was enriched by the hundreds of ideas we received from the community. A highlight was the 'pizza and ping pong' feedback session we hosted for young people. What a great way to hear from the next generation of Yarra leaders.

I was thrilled to catch up with Disability Sport and Recreation CEO Richard Amon for a chat about the exciting new Victorian Wheelchair Football League. I met Richmond stars Yasmina McGlone and Judeland Antony, quite a thrill given my allegiance to the almighty Tigers! Learn more on page 5.

My warm congratulations go to the nine Yarra residents featured in this year's Queen's Birthday honours list. They were recognised in fields like health, science, technology and the arts. Our own Cr Jackie Fristacky received a much-deserved Order of Australia (AM) for her service to local government and the community.

I'll finish with a quick reminder that Melba Ward councillors will be holding an informal public meeting in August. See below for details.

Cr Daniel Nguyen
Mayor

MELBA WARD MEETING

Councillors Chen Yi Mei, Nguyen and Searle invite you to join them at a special Melba Ward Meeting. This is an opportunity to ask questions of your local councillors and share your views on what is happening in your neighbourhood.

- Wednesday 8 August, 6.30pm to 9pm
Richmond Town Hall, Meeting Room 2

COUNCIL MEETINGS

Council Meetings are open to the public and community members are invited to attend. All meetings listed below begin at 7pm at Richmond Town Hall.

- Tuesday 17 July
- Tuesday 21 August
- Tuesday 7 August
- Tuesday 4 September

Visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/meetings for agendas, minutes and further information about Council Meetings. Agendas are published on the Friday prior to each meeting.

BREAKING NEWS: NEW BUDGET ADOPTED

We're supporting our young people, revitalising community spaces and advocating for sustainable transport, thanks to our newly adopted 2018/19 budget and 2018/19 – 2027/28 long term financial strategy.

Our 2018/19 budget supports a wide range of services and projects, while moving us toward a strong and sustainable financial position.

This budget was developed following a four-month conversation with the community. We received more than 250 written suggestions, so thank you to everyone who contributed.

Councillors considered all the submissions carefully and responded by funding some key projects proposed by the community.

You asked us for a youth space in Richmond, where young people can go to participate in activities and connect with their peers. This budget has pledged $185,000 towards a space for young people in Richmond.

We're also providing $15,000 to the Alliance for Gambling Reform. Pokies and other types of gambling continue to take considerable sums of money out of local people's pockets. We're committed to reducing the harmful impacts of gambling by supporting the Alliance.

Our town hall precincts have always been a great space where people can gather and participate in community life. Due to our changing demographics, we are looking into ways to revitalise these areas and have committed $100,500 to exploring how we can make the space around Collingwood and Fitzroy town halls more welcoming for the community.

As an inner-city council, we strongly believe in sustainable transport so that we can reduce congestion, help our environment and ensure our community can get around safely. That's why we are committing $10,000 to advocate to the State Government for greater investment in sustainable transport.

To learn more about our budget visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/finalbudget1819

OTHER BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS

- $7m on road upgrades and renewals
- $2m for upgrades and renewal works at our leisure centres
- $2m for community grants
- $1m for footpath and bike path improvements
- $1m for upgrades and renewals to sport facilities
- $747,000 for traffic and pedestrian improvements

TOP MARKS FOR YARRA

Rubbish and recycling, our libraries and services for older people received top marks in our latest independent customer satisfaction survey.

We'd like to thank the community for your support and feedback. Average satisfaction with our services and facilities was categorised as "excellent" (7.83 out of 10). This was significantly higher than the average for metropolitan Melbourne.

Laura Imbruglia at the Tramway Hotel is just one of this year's Leaps and Bounds highlights.

LEAPS AND BOUNDS COMES TO TOWN

Australian singer-songwriter Laura Imbruglia says "there's a certain brand of adrenaline you get when you play a great show that is pretty much inaccessible otherwise."

Imbruglia joins an impressive line-up of talent performing at our annual Leaps and Bounds Music Festival. The festival celebrates the abundance of live music venues in Yarra, their artists and their audiences.

Yarra is where almost all of my live music consumption happens.

"Yarra is where almost all of my live music consumption happens," Imbruglia says. "Melbourne's music community always seem to gravitate towards the 86 tram line (Gertrude Street, Smith Street, Queens Parade)."

There are gigs to suit fans of every genre, age group and budget, including many free gigs. Imbruglia will be performing a free show at Fitzroy North's Tramway Hotel on Saturday 14 July, supported by Tasmanian brother-sister duo Bulls. "I'm really looking forward to seeing Bulls. I played a show with them a few years ago and they blew my mind," Imbruglia says.

Participating venues include the Corner Hotel, The Rainbow Hotel, The Gasometer, The Tote and many other Yarra landmarks. And as Imbruglia tells us, "Attending a Leaps and Bounds show is a great way to support local music venues, musos and fellow music lovers."

Yarra Council is proud to support the Leaps and Bounds Music Festival, which runs from 13–22 July.

The Mayor, Cr Daniel Nguyen, catches up with Tigers stars Judeland Antony and Yasmina McGlone.

MEET THE STARS OF WHEELCHAIR FOOTY

Fast-paced, competitive and inclusive, the Victorian Wheelchair Football League (VWFL) is showcasing the next generation of footy stars.

The new league is made up of five teams, each linked to an AFL club, including Richmond and Collingwood.

The teams are mixed and include a diverse group of players with different levels of ability. Players range from the very experienced to some who have never tried wheelchair sports.

"I gave it a go, and it was lots of fun," said Yasmina McGlone, who plays for Richmond, "it's nice to be a part of something where you aren't your disability."

All of the players take part in joint training twice a week, building a strong sense of community not just within the teams but also throughout the League.

"It's more than a sport, it's a family," said Richmond teammate Judeland Antony, "when we play we have a game-face on but afterwards we are like brothers and sisters, we are very connected and take care of each other."

Along with this sense of comradery, the VWFL has helped players improve their health and confidence, and gives them a new sense of empowerment about what they can physically achieve.

"I feel I have achieved something that I never ever dreamed of. It gives you a boost of motivation that anything is possible in this world," said Judeland.

The games are intense and anyone can come along to spectate "the first time I watched I was on the edge of my seat," said Yasmina.

The League is managed by AFL Victoria in partnership with Disability Sport and Recreation in Fitzroy.

"The five AFL clubs involved have taken a leap of faith on the league," said Richard Amon, CEO of Disability Sport and Recreation. "They have welcomed the players into their clubs and provide genuine support."

Visit dsr.org.au to learn more about the game and get involved.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Helen Sheppard is among 400 Abbotsford householders taking part in our weekly food scraps collection trial.

We provided Helen with a dedicated food scraps tub in November 2017 and she has been placing it out for collection each week alongside her other bins.

The tubs can accommodate fruit and vegetable scraps; bread, rice and pasta; seafood and meat (including small bones); dairy and eggs (including shells); and coffee ground.

“We have a little tub under our sink and when it’s full it goes to the food scraps bin outside. It’s just really easy,” she says, “and it’s amazing to see the amount that your rubbish reduces as a result.”

Helen and her fellow participants are helping to reduce the amount of waste going to landfill. When food goes to landfill it generates methane - a potent greenhouse gas - so avoiding this is a big win for the environment.

Abbotsford residents are trialling our new food scraps collection service.

Results from the trial have been encouraging, with around 50% of eligible households already using the service. Just as importantly, contamination rates have been very low, showing that residents are paying close attention to what can and can't go in the tubs.

The program will soon be expanded to include additional households, with some homes receiving mixed food scraps and green waste collection service. Learnings from the trial will help us improve our waste services for Yarra as a whole.

I'm not in the trial area – what can I do to make a difference?

You can help by purchasing and preparing the right amount of food, and by finding a great composting solution for your household.

GOOD NEWS STORY

Sensitive Storytime is coming to all five Yarra Libraries branches. The program is helping children on the autism spectrum, and children with similar sensitivities, feel more comfortable and able to participate.

We are incorporating sensory aids to help children and carers benefit from regular storytime sessions in a more sensory controlled environment and without the crowds. Tools include a visual timer, schedule board with Picture Exchange Communication System (PECS) cards and a sensory tent.

Sensitive Storytime sessions are ideal for children on the autism spectrum.

After her grandson experienced the benefits of this new approach, a local grandmother left us the following feedback: “My grandson has ASD, and has excellent receptive skills, but limited spoken language. He enjoyed this session because it enabled him to participate more and the PECS Cards helped him feel more included and (able to) participate fully”.

Sensitive Storytime has been made possible thanks to a training resource offered by AMAZE, the peak body for Autism in Victoria. We’ve been working with AMAZE to help refine the resource to help others run the program.

Visit library.yarracity.vic.gov.au or call 1300 695 427 for information on upcoming Sensitive Storytime sessions at Yarra Libraries.

NOURISHING FITZROY

The weekly Meet and Eat at Fitzroy Food Centre invites community members to connect and learn from each other through food.

Participants get together in the community kitchen to cook a nutritious meal and then sit down and eat together.

“There’s a social elements to cooking together that is different from just sitting at a table eating,” said Peta Christensen, the Food Systems Team Leader from Cultivating Community who runs the lunches. “It can help create interactions and teamwork.”

Volunteers run the lunches and are on hand to prepare the ingredients and help participants with the recipes.

Dishes are chosen with a focus on healthy, affordable, seasonal eating and participants are encouraged to share recipes with the group, allowing them to get to know each other and experience different cultures through food.

Meet and Eat received one of Yarra Council’s 2018 Annual Grants.

The 2019 Annual Grants program is now open. You can receive funding and support for community initiatives that promote connectedness and wellbeing across Yarra.

MOVERS AND SHAKERS

Our senior’s hubs are all about meeting new friends, taking part in fun activities, and learning handy skills.

Our group exercise classes focus on building strength, mobility and balance, with a qualified instructor.

Eileen took her first class seven years ago after her doctor suggested some exercise to aid her recovery from an operation. “I love all movement and exercise,” she says. “It’s beautiful here; everyone is so friendly. I never miss a class and I’m here every week!”

Our seniors hubs are for residents aged 50+

Free transport is available

- Collingwood Senior’s Hub
4 Eddy Court

Visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/seniors-hubs or call 9205 5555 to learn about upcoming activities.

The senior’s hubs also include a range of other activities, including art projects, music and singing and (at the Collingwood hub) affordable community meals.

Visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/seniorsexercise to see Eileen and the group in action.

YARRA SUSTAINABILITY AWARDS

The Yarra Sustainability Awards celebrate the environmental innovators in our community, and the projects driving us towards a smart and sustainable future

This year Layan Architects set a new standard for sustainable development with its Cremorne Studios project, featuring high performance insulation, low energy air-conditioning, recyclable building materials and much more. We recognised this achievement in the building design and development category of the awards.

Layan Director, Johannes Hart, led the local company's vision for the project. "We have developed a $4 million, six-storey energy-efficient commercial development building in the heart of Cremorne," he said. "We hope that this building sets a precedent for other commercial developments in the area and are keen to have other developers visit the building."

Visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/sustainabilityawards to learn more about this year's award winners.

Street trees are helping our neighbourhoods stay shady and cool.

STREET TREES, YES PLEASE

Each year we plant about 1,000 new trees in streets all across Yarra.

Tree planting is a long term investment with many benefits, including enhancing the appearance of our streets and helping to slow traffic to improve journeys for pedestrians and cyclists.

There are also significant environmental benefits, as trees play an important role in cooling and filtering and provide habitat for native wildlife.

Yarra Council landscape architect Clare Lee explains that we are aiming to plant trees in streets without any trees or where existing trees require an upgrade. "Our primary focus is to increase street tree canopy cover and provide a healthy, diverse tree population which will cope with predicted climatic change."

Many of our residents are passionate about the need for street trees in their neighbourhoods, including Princes Hill's Peter Kane. "The appearance and coolness of our street is essential to its enjoyment and value," he says.

"By planting more trees in Yarra streets, we're increasing their value through beautification, reducing summer temperatures and providing the opportunity to walk in the shade."

Visit yarracity.vic.gov.au/trees to learn more about our tree management approach.

NEW TRIAL AIMS TO SAVE LIVES

The State Government is trialling a medically supervised injecting room at North Richmond Community Health (NRCH) in Lennox Street, Richmond.

This location has been selected because drugs of dependence are frequently bought and publically injected in the surrounding area. The new facility will provide health services, reduce public injecting and aims to reduce the number of discarded syringes in public places.

Yarra Council has long supported a harm minimisation approach, which is widely accepted as best practice in reducing the impacts of illicit drug use. Supervision greatly reduces the likelihood of overdose-related deaths.

The centre is managed by NRCH. Yarra Council is working closely with the State Government, Victoria Police, NRCH and other frontline agencies to manage any impacts on local amenity.

FACES OF YARRA

Portraits of a living city

Sisters Amina, Yasmine and Selima are members of the Albanian Australian Islamic Society in Drummond Street, Carlton North.

"Yarra people are very accepting of our community and always support events at our mosque," they say. "We love connecting with the wider community and answering any questions people have."

Follow @CityOfYarra on Instagram for more on Amina, Yasmine and Selima and our other #FacesOfYarra.

RATES NOTICES ON THE WAY

Yarra property owners will be receiving rates notices in August. It's important to remember that the 2.25% rate cap applies only to the overall amount of money that Council is receiving from rates.

Individual properties will experience rate increases that are higher or lower than 2.25% due to property valuations and other factors. New developments and rising property values do not result in increased rate revenue for Council.

SPONSOR THE NEXT LOCAL SPORTS STAR

We are seeking business sponsors to help young people from disadvantaged backgrounds participate in local soccer and basketball teams. Our young sports stars compete in clubs based in Richmond, Clifton Hill, Fitzroy and Collingwood, and sponsorships start at just $200 per year.

To learn more, contact our Youth Services team at info@yarracity.vic.gov.au or on 9205 5555 by 31 July.

END OF THE ROAD FOR oBIKES

Share bike operator oBike has advised that it is withdrawing its service from Melbourne. We are working with the company to facilitate the removal of their bikes from local streets. We recommend that members of the public avoid using any of the remaining oBikes, as this will make it easier for them to be located and removed. If you spot a stray oBike, please contact us at info@yarracity.vic.gov.au or on 9205 5555.
